

The Best High School Service Project EVER!

GIRLS GARDENS are transforming the lives of young girls all over the world. In Africa, vegetables and chicken eggs grown for school lunch programs are convincing impoverished families to send their children back to school. In Afghanistan, foster families are taking in children because they arrive with vegetables and eggs from their garden!

Our newest Girls Garden in Kenya is convincing Maasai families to keep their daughters in school and away from both Female Genital Mutilation and early marriage.

Visit GlobalRoots.org to learn how your local high school can sponsor a Maasai Girl's Garden. Each participating school will be encouraged to elect one lucky student to visit the sponsored garden on a Global Roots service trip to Kenya next July.
